A Gift to Charity in Your Will

A carefully written Will ensures your assets are distributed according to your wishes. A gift to charity in your Will is a meaningful way to reduce your taxes and help people with Parkinson's.

Benefits to you:

- Convenient: It can be made regardless of your age and for any amount.
- Cost-Effective: Your present income will not decrease and there are no costs.
- Simple: It is easy to arrange. Simply instruct your lawyer to include a gift to Parkinson Canada in your Will. It can be a specific amount, a percentage of your estate or the residue of your estate (a gift after debts have been paid and other gifts have been distributed)
- Tax Relief: Your estate will receive a charitable tax receipt which can be used to reduce your taxes on your final tax return and, in some cases, the previous tax return.

Benefits to Parkinson Canada and the people you help:

- Helping people with Parkinson's: Your gift will enable us to provide education and support services, and advocate on behalf of Canadians living with Parkinson's.
- Investing in a cure: Funding innovative research helps expand knowledge about early symptoms, diagnosis and treatment of Parkinson's disease, which will bring us closer to a cure.
